

Respiratory Therapy Open House / Orientation Sessions (RTOHO) 2008 -2009

The program holds Respiratory Therapy Open House / Orientation (RTOHO) sessions from September through March. These RTOHO are open to anyone with an interest in respiratory therapy and Forsyth Tech's program of study. Detailed information about the profession of Respiratory Care, as well as the admission process, and Forsyth Tech's advanced-level curriculum offering in Respiratory Therapy will be covered during these sessions.

As a part of the Minimum Admission Requirements (MAR), prospective students who apply for the Respiratory Therapy program MUST complete this orientation and submit required program-specific forms (given out and explained during the RTOHO) to Perry Sheppard, Program Coordinator, or a program faculty member for filing in the program's office, 302-A Greene Hall. Although the Allied Health Information Session is recommended, it is NOT REQUIRED if you attend the RTOHO session. This RTOHO session and all other steps on the MAR form must be completed AND a MAR review meeting with an admissions counselor PRIOR to the published March deadline in order to be considered for selection into the fall class of the same year.

All RTOHO sessions are held on the Forsyth Tech main campus in Greene Hall, lab 300, on Thursday evenings from 6:00 PM to 8:30 PM. Family and friends are also welcome and encouraged to attend along with the prospective student; however, RSVP is required. Following is a list of RTOHO dates for fall 2008 and spring 2009 semesters:
