Mission, Vision, Equity Statement

Mission

Forsyth Technical Community College advances student success through excellence in learning, completion, equity and post-graduation outcomes.

Vision

Forsyth Technical Community College is a catalyst for equitable economic mobility, empowering lives and transforming communities.

Equity Statement

At Forsyth Technical Community College, equity is grounded in a culture of belonging. We will intentionally design the college experience to ensure that each learner receives what they need to be successful.

Our Promises

- To value, accept and support all students.
- To know each student and help them achieve their goals.
- To help students find jobs and build careers.
- To be a life-long learning resource for our students.
- To be a versatile partner for local businesses, providing needed services and ready-to-work employees.
- To lead our communities in advancing social mobility and promoting social justice.
- To contribute to the cultural vibrancy and economic prosperity of the communities we serve.

Dear Graduates

Dear Class of 2025,

Congratulations on reaching this important moment in your life. Today, we celebrate all that you have achieved and all that lies ahead. This is a time of reflection and pride — not just for you and your loved ones, but for the entire Forsyth Tech community. We are honored to have been part of your journey, and we are so proud of each and every one of you.

This celebration is not only yours, but also belongs to the families, friends, and communities who have supported you — and who will benefit from your success for years to come.

This year, Forsyth Tech marks 65 years of changing lives through education. For more than six decades, students just like you have walked across our stages and into careers, communities, and futures they once only dreamed of. You are now part of that legacy, and you're helping to shape what the next 65 years will look like.

During your time here, you've stretched your thinking, developed new skills, and learned to navigate challenges with determination and heart. You've balanced responsibilities, asked tough questions, discovered new strengths, and proven to yourself what's possible when you stay committed to your goals. Whether your path here was short or long, smooth or bumpy, you made it. That alone is worth celebrating.

We know it hasn't always been easy. Completing your program takes courage, sacrifice, and focus. But it also opens doors—to opportunity, to growth, to impact. Wherever you go next, take what you've learned and keep building on it. Let your curiosity guide you. Keep showing up for yourself and for others. And know that you are more prepared than you may realize. By earning your credentials, you have not only shaped your future, but you've opened doors for future generations. Your achievement will resonate far beyond this campus.

You've inspired us with your persistence. You've reminded us why we do what we do. And now, as you take the next step—whether that's transferring to a university, starting a new career, or pursuing a long-held dream—we'll be cheering you on.

The world is full of complex problems, new challenges, and important conversations. It needs people like you: people who lead with integrity, who keep learning, and who bring others along with them. You are ready to make a difference.

Remember, Forsyth Tech will always be here to celebrate your successes and support your dreams. Take a deep breath. Enjoy this achievement. And when you're ready—go blaze your trail. Congratulations, Class of 2025!

With great pride and even greater hope,

Dr. Janet N. Spriggs
President

Ava Alfonso

President, Student Government Association

Ava Alfonso is a dual enrollment high school student making history as the first dual-enrolled student to serve as President of the Student Government Association (SGA). Since beginning her term in July 2024, Ava has skillfully balanced leadership responsibilities alongside her rigorous academic schedule, pursuing both her high school diploma and an Associate in Science degree.

As SGA President, Ava is deeply committed to enhancing student life. She led the creation of a streamlined communication system designed to centralize essential information on Forsyth Tech's main digital platform, replacing overwhelming emails and newsletters with a user-friendly resource hub.

Ava also champions initiatives addressing student wellness, including advocating for free menstrual products on campus. She personally oversees distribution efforts, actively seeks funding, and ensures equitable access to these essential supplies.

She is a member of the Varsity Track and Field and Dance Teams, as well as a Crosby Scholar. Ava also holds memberships in the National Dance Honor Society, National Science Honors Society, National English Honors Society and the Spirit Club.

Ava will attend the UNCG Honors College on a full scholarship in the fall.

Mace and Medallion

The ceremonial mace is a commencement symbol which signifies the right of the college administration to confer degrees on its graduates. The mace is used to lead the commencement procession, carried by the recipient of the Excellence in Teaching Award at Forsyth Technical Community College, and conveys respect for the integrity of the college and dedication of the faculty. The presence of a mace in ceremonial processions dates back to the Middle Ages and was often used as a means of protecting the king and as a symbol of his authority. The mace has evolved over time and has come to represent leadership. Universities and colleges have used a mace in their commencement ceremonies since the 15th century.

Our mace was designed by the students and faculty of the Engineering Technologies Department for our 2019 Commencement Celebration.

The President's Medallion is another symbol that dates back to the Middle Ages. It is customarily worn during academic ceremonies, such as commencement, as part of the President's regalia to signify a badge of office. The current President's medallion was created at Forsyth Tech's Center for Advanced Manufacturing utilizing industrial-grade 3D printing technology.

Regalia

The tradition of academic regalia worn by faculty and staff during commencement dates back to university attire from the 12th and 13th centuries. Academic dress has been used in the United States since colonial times. In 1895, an intercollegiate commission in the United States adopted a standardized code for the use of academic gowns, hoods and caps, which included regulating the cut, style and materials of gowns.

The bachelor's gown is a simple style that is usually the color of the graduating college and has pointed sleeves. The master's gown is similar to the bachelor's except for the long sleeves with square ends that hang below the elbow. The doctor's gown is more elaborate and has velvet panels down the front and around the neck with bell-shaped sleeves.

While the academic hood was originally created to protect the wearer from foul weather, we now use the hood to identify the degree, and the length indicates which degree it represents: 3½ feet for the master's and 4 feet for the doctoral degree. Hoods are lined with the official color of the college or university conferring the degree, which explains why the commencement ceremony exhibits such a vast array of colors and pageantry as faculty and staff enter the arena.

The color of trimming identifies the major field of learning on the hood: maize for Agriculture, orange for Applied Sciences and Arts, brown for Architecture, drab for Business, light blue for Education, orange for Engineering, brown for Fine Arts, purple for Law, white for Liberal Arts, blue for Mass Communication and Media Arts, pink for Music, dark blue for Philosophy, peacock blue for Public Administration, salmon for Public Health, gold for Science, and citron for Social Work.

The mortarboard is the cap generally worn with academic regalia with a long tassel fastened to the middle point on the top of the cap. A tam and tassel may be worn by those with a doctor's degree.
