

Forsyth Tech EMS Programs Emergency Medical Technician Information Packet

Course Information

Forsyth Tech EMS Programs offers two types of Emergency Medical Technician (EMT) courses: EMS 110 and EMS 4200. Both courses are structured to accommodate a variety of schedules, with options available during the day, in the evening, and on weekends. Course lengths vary and they may run for 12 weeks, 16 weeks, or up to 6 months, which allows students the flexibility to choose a course that best fits their individual needs.

Enrollment Information

The enrollment process is different depending on which course the student plans to take. It is essential that you follow the correct steps for your specific course, whether EMS 110 or EMS 4200. You can access the following link for a quick video overview on our different EMT courses and how to register: <https://youtu.be/YmoS3JDa3SU>

To be eligible for either EMT course, you must complete all required prerequisites before the course registration deadline. You are also required to attend a mandatory information session, which serves as your course orientation. Each course will have its own registration deadline and orientation date. These requirements must be met in order to secure your seat in the class

Admission Steps EMS-4200 Continuing Education

Please note that students who are affiliated with an EMS, fire or rescue agency and qualify for a fee waiver must take EMS 4200. Student in EMS-110 aren't eligible for a fee waiver.

Step 1: Complete and Submit Registration Form, Prerequisites and ID. Please note that academic advisors are not able to register or enroll students in EMS 4200. To complete your registration, you must email the EMS department staff assistant directly and state your intent to take the course. In that email, you must attach the completed registration form, which is located at the end of this packet. You must also include all required prerequisite documents and a copy of your valid government-issued photo ID. All registration materials should be sent to Paige Dellavechia at pdellavechia@forsythtech.edu. Incomplete submissions may result in delays or denial of registration.

Step 2: Submit FERPA Form. Complete the FERPA form in this packet and email it to pdellavechia@forsythtech.edu. If you are claiming a fee exemption, and want to give your agency permission to access your records please be sure to list your affiliated department under "employer" on the FERPA form.

Step 3: Submit Proof of Agency Affiliation (If Applicable). If you are affiliated with a volunteer or paid agency and wish to qualify for a fee waiver, provide an official letter of affiliation on agency letterhead, signed by your department chief.

Step 4: Attend the Mandatory Information Session and Complete Student Readiness Exam. All students are required to participate in the mandatory information session, which serves as the course orientation and complete the student readiness exam. Attendance is not optional. Failure to attend the information session will result in the student losing their seat in the class.

Step 5: Purchase Uniform Shirt. Ensure that your uniform shirt is purchased by the specified deadline. Failure to do so will prevent you from attending the class.

Admission Steps EMS-110 Curriculum

Student in EMS-110 aren't eligible for a fee waiver.

Step 1: Apply to Forsyth Technical Community College. Prospective students interested in enrolling in EMS 110 must first complete a college application through the College Foundation of North Carolina (CFNC). To begin the application process, visit Forsyth Tech's Steps to Apply and complete Steps 1 through 3. When selecting a program of study on the application, choose "Emergency Medical Science - Entry" as your pathway. After you have been accepted to the college, you will move on to Step 2 of the registration process for EMS 110.

Step 2: Complete and Submit Registration Form, Prerequisites and ID. Please note that academic advisors are not able to register or enroll students in EMS 110. To complete your registration, you must email the EMS department staff assistant directly and state your intent to take the course. In that email, you must attach the completed EMS 110 registration form, which is located at the end of this packet. You must also include all required prerequisite documents and a copy of your valid government-issued photo ID. All registration materials should be sent to Paige Dellavechia at pdellavechia@forsythtech.edu. Incomplete submissions may result in delays or denial of registration.

Step 3: Submit FERPA Form. Complete the FERPA form in this packet and email it to pdellavechia@forsythtech.edu. If you are claiming a fee exemption, and want to give your agency permission to access your records please be sure to list your affiliated department under "employer" on the FERPA form.

Step 4: Attend the Mandatory Information Session and Complete Student Readiness Exam. All students are required to participate in the mandatory information session, which serves as the course orientation and complete the student readiness exam. Attendance is not optional. Failure to attend the information session will result in the student losing their seat in the class.

Step 5: Purchase Uniform Shirt. Ensure that your uniform shirt is purchased by the specified deadline. Failure to do so will prevent you from attending the class.

Minimum Prerequisites EMS-110 and EMS-4200

Students who want to enroll in either EMS-110 or EMS-4200 must at least possess a high school diploma, high school equivalency, or successful completion of an exam assessing basic reading comprehension skills at a minimum at the eleventh-grade level.

Students who wish to take a EMT class will have to complete the student readiness exam which will be conducted during the student's information session. The purpose of this assessment is to ensure that students entering the EMT program at Forsyth Technical Community College possess the minimum academic comprehension necessary to be successful in rigorous EMS coursework.

Forsyth Technical Community College will utilize the CASAS (Comprehensive Adult Student Assessment Systems) Reading GOALS 2 assessment to measure comprehension for the EMT course.

Required EMT Comprehension Level

Program Level	Minimum Comprehension Requirement
EMT	11 th Grade English (249 or above)

High School Students

All high school students interested in taking an EMT course must be at least 17 years old on or before the official end date of the course. All high school students will have to take the student readiness exam as indicated above.

Information Session

All prospective EMT students are required to attend a mandatory information session after submitting their registration documents. Failure to attend this session without prior approval from the EMS Program Director will result in the forfeiture of your spot in the program. Any vacated seats will be offered to alternate candidates on the waiting list. Additionally, students who arrive late to the mandatory information session will also forfeit their spot, and those seats will be reassigned to candidates on the waiting list.

Admission Process

All EMT courses offered through the Forsyth Tech EMS Program will accept the first 20 applicants who fully complete the registration process. Once all seats are filled, additional applicants will be placed on a waitlist. To be placed on the waitlist, students must still complete all required registration steps in full.

If a student holding a seat withdraws from the course, the next eligible student on the waitlist will be offered the seat. Likewise, if a student fails to attend the mandatory information session or arrives late, their seat will be forfeited and offered to the next student on the waitlist.

Official Communication

Once accepted into the course, all information will be communicated to the students via their Forsyth Technical Community College email. Information will not be sent through any alternative communication methods.

Program Cost

CONSENT

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA) is a federal law that protects the privacy of student records and assures students have access rights to their own educational records. Once a student enrolls in a college or university, regardless of the student's age, FERPA rights transfer from the parent(s) or guardian(s) to the student. Therefore, the student must authorize the release of any information from his or her educational record to any other parties outside of the educational institution, including any family members.

Student Authorization to Release Information

I give my permission to Forsyth Technical Community College to release the following during the time that I am enrolled at Forsyth Tech, unless I file a request to change the status of this release.

- Academic information from my official educational record
- Financial/billing information related to my enrollment
- Student Contact Information
