Dear Graduates

Dear Class of 2026,

Congratulations on reaching this moment. Today is a day to pause, reflect, and take pride in how far you've come. We celebrate your work, your growth, and the path that brought you here. It has been an honor for Forsyth Tech to be part of your journey, and we are proud of you.

This day belongs to you, and it also belongs to the people who stood beside you along the way. Your family, friends, and supporters share in this accomplishment. Their encouragement helped carry you forward, and your success will have a lasting impact on them and your community.

This year has been a special one for Forsyth Tech. We celebrated 65 years of serving students and strengthening our community through education. At the same time, we reached a new chapter with the launch of athletics, giving students new ways to grow, compete, and build pride in being part of this college. These milestones reflect both our history and our future—and you are part of both.

During your time here, you've gained knowledge, built skills, and faced challenges head-on. You learned how to manage your time, stay focused, and keep going even when things felt uncertain. Each step brought you closer to this moment. No matter what your path looked like, you stayed committed, and that commitment brought you here today.

Earning your credential is no small feat. It takes effort, discipline, and belief in yourself. The doors in front of you now are the result of that work. Whether you continue your education, begin your career, or take another path, you are prepared to move forward with confidence.

You have already made an impact. You've shown what is possible through persistence and hard work. As you step into what comes next, carry that same drive with you. Stay curious. Keep learning. Look for ways to lift others as you move ahead.

The world needs thoughtful, capable people who are ready to contribute and grow. You are ready. Your time at Forsyth Tech has prepared you not just for a job, but for a life of learning and purpose.

Know that this place will always be part of your story. We will continue to celebrate your success and support your goals.

Take in this moment. You've earned it. And when you're ready, step forward with confidence and go blaze your trail.

Congratulations, Class of 2026.

Mace and Medallion

The ceremonial mace is a commencement symbol which signifies the right of the college administration to confer degrees on its graduates. The mace is used to lead the commencement procession, carried by the recipient of the Excellence in Teaching Award at Forsyth Technical Community College, and conveys respect for the integrity of the college and dedication of the faculty. The presence of a mace in ceremonial processions dates back to the Middle Ages and was often used as a means of protecting the king and as a symbol of his authority. The mace has evolved over time and has come to represent leadership. Universities and colleges have used a mace in their commencement ceremonies since the 15th century.

Our mace was designed by the students and faculty of the Engineering Technologies Department for our 2019 Commencement Celebration.

The President's Medallion is another symbol that dates back to the Middle Ages. It is customarily worn during academic ceremonies, such as commencement, as part of the President's regalia to signify a badge of office. The current President's medallion was created at Forsyth Tech's Center for Advanced Manufacturing utilizing industrial-grade 3D printing technology.

Regalia

The tradition of academic regalia worn by faculty and staff during commencement dates back to university attire from the 12th and 13th centuries. Academic dress has been used in the United States since colonial times. In 1895, an intercollegiate commission in the United States adopted a standardized code for the use of academic gowns, hoods and caps, which included regulating the cut, style and materials of gowns.

The bachelor's gown is a simple style that is usually the color of the graduating college and has pointed sleeves. The master's gown is similar to the bachelor's except for the long sleeves with square ends that hang below the elbow. The doctor's gown is more elaborate and has velvet panels down the front and around the neck with bell-shaped sleeves.

While the academic hood was originally created to protect the wearer from foul weather, we now use the hood to identify the degree, and the length indicates which degree it represents: 3½ feet for the master's and 4 feet for the doctoral degree. Hoods are lined with the official color of the college or university conferring the degree, which explaines why the commencement ceremony exhibits such a vast array of colors and pageantry as faculty and staff enter the arena.

The color of trimming identifies the major field of learning on the hood: maize for Agriculture, orange for Applied Sciences and Arts, brown for Architecture, drab for Business, light blue for Education, orange for Engineering, brown for Fine Arts, purple for Law, white for Liberal Arts, blue for Mass Communication and Media Arts, pink for Music, dark blue for Philosophy, peacock blue for Public Administration, salmon for Public Health, gold for Science, and citron for Social Work.

The mortarboard is the cap generally worn with academic regalia with a long tassel fastened to the middle point on the top of the cap. A tam and tassel may be worn by those with a doctor's degree.
